INLINE® USB-A COUPLER, MINI

IP68, shielded, 2x USB-A socket

- Reliable IP68 protection in a compact format: Ideal for dustproof and waterproof USB connections in industrial, workshop, and outdoor environments.
- Shielded USB-A coupling for stable data transfer: Supports up to 5 Gb/s—ideal for professional USB applications.
- Simultaneous power supply with 5 V/2 A: Perfect for setting up robust charging connections in technical or service applications.
- Easy integration thanks to M20 thread: Suitable for housing bushings or connection panels – can be securely mounted without special tools.
- Easy installation: Can be easily integrated into housings, technical boxes, or distribution boxes.

The InLine® USB-A cable coupling Mini offers a robust, shielded connection for demanding USB applications in harsh environments. Whether in industry, outdoor technology, or mobile use – with IP68 protection class, M20 thread, and flexible cable holder, this coupling is versatile.

Thanks to shielded USB-A sockets and high-quality silicone seals, the connector is ideal for installation in enclosures, distributors, or technical panels. It transmits data at up to 5 Gb/s while providing a 5 V/2 A power supply – e.g., for cameras, sensors, charging ports, or embedded devices. Installation is simple and tool-free: the M20 thread allows secure mounting in enclosures or technical boxes.

This USB-A coupling is the ideal solution for anyone who wants to implement durable, protected USB connections – in technical applications as well as in professional environments.
Whether you need a temporary extension, a weatherproof connection, or a robust solution for industrial environments, this patch cable coupler provides you with a reliable connection solution for demanding scenarios.
